A GIELDSENSUPPE FIND?

FISHED OUT OF A WOODSIDE DRAIN BY TWO CHILDREN.

A Gruesome Bundle Which May Have Contained the Missing Head-A Plaster of Paris shell, Bearing the Impression of a Human

Ear. Found in a Pragment of Carpet. There was another find in connection with the Gieldsensuppe murder case yesterday. It started the Queens county authorities at work harder than ever. Shortly after noon two little girls who were picking golden rod in a vacant lot opposite the house in second street near Anderon avenue. Woodside, which Mrs. Nack and Martin Thorn are said to have hired, and where it is believed the murder was committed, noticed a bundle in the drain which runs along the sidewalk. This drain runs parallel with Second street, and is the outlet for the sewerage of the houses on that street. It is four feet wide and is the place where some of the residents say they saw bloody water running at the time the murder is supposed to have occurred. One of the girls, Lizzie Nuenheimer, 7 years old, who lives in a house on Anderson avenue, just back of the Second street house, pulled the bundle out of the drain. It came apart and disclosed an oval piece of hardened plaster of Paris. The Nuenheimer girl ran home to her mother, Mrs. Clara Nuenhelmer, and told her that she had found part of Gieldsensuppe's head. Mrs. Nuenhelmer walked to the spot indicated by her daugnter. She found the oval piece of plaster, which had been wrapped in an old pair of painter's overalls and a piece of Brussels carpet.

Mrs. Nuenheimer went back to her house and got a bushel basket and, placing it in a toy wagon, she trundled it around to the drain and carefully picked up all the articles. She placed them in the basket and took them to the back yard of her house. Then she told her husband, Charles, of her find. He looked over the stuff and thought that the plaster contained an impression of the side of a human head, and upor closer examination he saw what he thought was human hair sticking in the plaster. He burried off and reported his find to Coroner Hasiem. The Coroner took the articles to his office in the rear of Schreiner's Hotel. He summoned Deputy Coroner Edward A. Keuling, and they got garden rakes and dragged the drain more evidence. They spent the after oon in this manner without getting anything else.

Dr. Samuel A. Wood was called to examine the articles found. The oval piece of hardened plaster was shell shaped and about eight inches in diameter and an inch thick. The inner side was indented with lines and marks which might have been made by a human car and part of a nose. An unpleasant odor came from the plaster, and Dr. Wood found traces of decayed cabbage in the shell. The yard of the Second street ter, and Dr. Wood found traces of decayed cabbage in the shell. The yard of the Second street house was filled with cabbages at the time of the murder, and the plaster of Paris might have inclos de cabbage head or a human head wrapped in cabbage leaves. There were three human hairs imbedded in the shell.

The overalls were cid and stained with what seemed to be paint. The carpet wrapped around the overalls and shell was a yard long and half a yard wide, and was so theroughly waterseaked that the color was unrecognizable. Mrs.
Nuenheimer identified the carpet as a piece that she saw lying in the yard of the Second street house after the family samed McMininum moved away. They occupied the house several months prior to the time when Mrs.
Nuenheimer identified the carpet as a piece she had asked for when a junkman called at the house about the time the McMininums were moving away. She wanted it to place underneath a mantel in her kitchen. A piece of wrapping paper around the carpet bore the name of Lord & Taylor.

Mrs. Nuenheimer says that the bundle must have been lying where it was found for some time, as her son Charley told her about it several weeks ago, but she paid no attention to his story, thinking it was mere childish prattle.
Ceroner Haslem will notify District Attorney Youngs to-day about the find and the drain will be thoroughly dredged.

THIRVES FIRE INLAYSTOWN.

The Entire Business Part of a New Jersey Village Bestroyed.

TRUNTON, N. J., Sept. 19 .- An explosion in the general store of D. G. Waldron awakened the residents of Inlaystown, Monmouth county, at half past 3 o'clock this morning. The explosion caused by gunpowder. The store had been set afire, and when the residents turned out of their beds it was almost destroyed. Mr Waldron's residence, adjoining the store, was in flames and was burned down. Then foll the grist mill of R. G. Hendrickson, and sparks flew across the road to the dwelling and shop of Mrs. Williams. The general store of Barclay P. Malabury, containing the Post Office, caught next, and then the hotel and stables of John Hendrickson. All were The village has about thirty consume !. houses, 250 inhabitants, and no fire apparatus. Telegrams were sert to Hightstown and Pen berton for assistance, but there was no railroad service and no aid was received. The residents erranized a bucket brigade, but could do little, and the fire burned out for lack of material. The losses are estimated at $5,000 on Waldron's store, $3,000 on his house, $8,000 on Hendrickson's mill, $11,000 on Malbury's store, and $0,000 on Hendrickson's Hotel. The insurance is about one-third.

The fire was undoubtedly caused by thieves, who robbed or attempted to rob Waldron's store. Mr. Waldron left the store after midnight, and all was right then. Dr. Price passed the store half an hour later and saw a ladder standing under a back second-story window, which was smashed in. The suspiction is that theyes robbed the store and set it after. The gunpowher that caused the explosion was part of the stock usually kept in a country store.

The Post Office safe wa dragged from the rules this morning. It contains valuable papers, but has not cooled yet so that it can be opened. The mails were saved, as were the effects of Hendrickson's Hotel. The property burned comprised the entire business part of the village.

Savannah newspaper printed a despitch from Atlanta in relation to the matter, and it was over the authorship of the article that the lively quarrel has arisen.

In a correspondence which has involved the telegraph company as to the author of the article commissing of the two men have made some severe strictures on each other. Capt. Purse says that, "after exhausting the files of malice in decilish ingenuity to mortify me and suspend over me the imputation of grievous crime, there was no deeper depth to which you could sink the official ermine." The Captain then suggests a personal meeting and Mr. Massey has replied to the effect that he is willing to meet the Captain anywhere, at any time, with any weapon.

DEMOCRAIS' STAR EMBLEM.

Danforth Saye It Stands Without Beadoption by the State Committee.

The adoption of a party emblem when a State nomination is made by the State Committee of party is not specifically provided for by the statute. The Democratic State Committee, at its session last Wednesday, adopted no emblem, and as there was some question what effect this might have on the ballots, Chairman Elliot Danforth consulted several leading lawyers in the city. After reading the statute they furnished opinions to the effect that there was no necessity for the committee acting. Where no other provision was made, the lawyers were of the opinion that in the case of regularly recognized organizations the Secretary of State was bound to accept the emblem adopted at the last regular State Convention, and the Secretary himself could furnish the emblem if necessary. Mr. Danforth said last night, however, that the emblem of the Democracy would be filed with the certificate of the nomination of Judge Parker, signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the State Committee. He said that the Attorney-General's opinion sent to Republican State Committee man Fox last week stated that there was no need that a State Committee about regularly adopt an emblem upon making a nomination. If it should be discovered that the omission of the adoption of the smblem made any difference regarding the ballots, Mr. Danforth said, the State Committee could readily be reconvened, but there was little likelihood that it would be. The emblem of the Democracy will be a five-pointed star this year, as it has been since the adoption of the present blanket ballot. The Republican State Committee in the safety of the State Committee in the safety of the safety recognized organizations the Secretary of State

BOYS, BAIL BONDS, AND A PRIMARY. How One Democratic Faction in Brooklyn Fooled Their Opponents.

There is a bitter factional fight between the Democratic statesmen in the Fifth ward in Brooklyn, and the wool is sure to fly at the primaries to night. James J. Bridges, an officer in the County Court, is the leader of one of the factions and Alderman Guilfoyle is the chieftain of the other. The friends of Guilfoyle were boasting yesterday of their clever capture of four voters from the Bridges camp. The four voters were the respective fathers of the four boys who were tried in the Grant Street Court boys who were tried in the Grant Street Court on Thursday last for plotting to wreck a Brighton Beach train and held by Police Justice Steers for the Grand Jury.

On Friday Mr. Bridges furnished the necessary bonds for the release of the boys and received the order for their discharge from the jail. He did not, however, go to the jail for the boys on that day, but on Saturday morning he called up Justice Steers on the telephone and told him that he would let them remain there until he had beard from their fathers. For the purpose, it is presumed, of weakening Mr. Bridges shold on the parents and friends of the incarcerated youths, a member of the Guilfoyle faction hurried off the Grant Street Court and furnished fresh bonds for the boys, who were promptly released.

Mr. Bridges was yesterday trying to explain his dilatory tactics, but the other side is likely to get all the credit for the release of the boys, and the incident may have a deterrent effect on to-night's primary.

IN THE DEMOCRATIC CAMP.

rooklyn Primaries To-Right-Somo Lively Contests Expected.

The Democratic primaries for the election of delegates to the various conventions will be held in Brooklyn to-night. In each of the 516 election districts two delegates will be chosen to the twenty-one Assembly district conventions, each of which will elect ten delegates to the city, county and Council conventions. One delegate will also be elected from each election district will also be elected from each election district to the Assembly and Aldermanic conventions. There are some hot faction fights among the Democratic Assembly district chieftains and lively primaries are expected in the Fifth, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Twentloth, Twenty-fifth an Twenty-eighth wards. The rivalry is aimed at the control of the County Convention, at which candidates for Sheriff, Register, County Clerk, and County Treasurer are to be nominated.

It is Mr. McLaughlin's intention, so his closest friends say, to retire from active political management at the close of the present campaign. There was an unusually large attendance of the Democratic leader's personal friends at his house last night, and the political situation was the chief topic of discussion. While nothing has been absolutely determined as to the candidates on the county ticket, it was said that Clvil has been absolutely determined as to the candi-dates on the county ticket, it was said that Civil Justice Jacob Neu, who proved himself the most popular Democrat in Kings county at the elec-tion in 1895, was the most likely man to cap-ture the nomination for She iff, and that his three associates on the ticket would be men who had never before held or ran for office.

BALTIMORE NEGROES REPOLT.

Their Desire for Public Office Made a Thome for Pulpit Biscur

BALTIMORE, Sept. 19 .- That the negro voters of this city are determined to demand recornition from the white leaders of the Republican party was shown by the themes preached by negro preachers in all the colored churches today, and at one in particular the matter was taken up in a most pointed manner. At John Wesley M. E. Church the Rev. Dr. Ernest Lyon wesley M. E. Church the Rev. Dr. Ernest Lyon holds forth. In addition to being an eloquent speaker, he is considered a leader of his race in this city and State. Naturally, when it became known that he was to take up this much mooted question in a sermon this morning, hundreds flocked to hear what he had to say. Dr. Lyon advised the colored leaders to hold a conference and formulate their demands for recognition. They were then to meet their white brethren, and if nothing came of the conference they were to devise means by which the white Republicans could be brought to terms. brought to terms.

TAMMANY'S SOPS TO LABOR.

We will nominate one Coroner for them at the "We will nominate one Coroner for them at the Manhattan Borough Convention and then give them two Assembly and three Aldermanic candidates in good districts. That ought to satisfy the Bryan men that we are on the level, even though we don't indorse the Chicago platform. I hear, though, that there is some kicking and that there is an inclination to call some of the men in the labor rganizations who are looking for these places traitors. Anyway our plan will succeed in splitting up that element, and that will help us."

CITS SILENT FOR A DAY.

To-Buy They May Pick Out a Comptroller for

Not a soul disturbed the quiet of the Cits' Headquarters yesterday. Even Simon, the Roumanian messenger, who speaks eight languages and is interpreter-in-chief to Chairman Reynolds, took a day off. The flags were furled, Reynolds, took a day off. The flags were furled, and S'Death Low's picture was the only thing that indicated political headquarters. However, the Cits of the Executive Committee will get back to town and talk today. At 3:30 this afternoon a special meeting will be held at 32 Liberty street, when nominations will again be discussed, and perhaps they will be able to decide on the men they want for Comptroller and President of the Council. It is doubtful if they will tell who the men are, even if they select them, for they are beginning to hedge on the proposition to nominate before the Republican Convention.

BRYAN MEN WANT GEORGE

TOM L. JOHNSON SAID TO BE URGING BIM TO RUN FOR MAYOR.

Saynor and Knox in View If the Single Taxer Won't Run-Attempts to He Made to Put Up Some Sort of a Fight in Behalf of Bryantem at the Democratic City Convention.

The radical Bryanites who are connected with the Kings County Democratic League and the Democratic Alliance of the Greater New York were discussing yesterday the probability of getting Henry George to run for Mayor as the Chicago platform candidate. They said that the prospects of getting Mr. George to run are brighter than they were, and that this is due to the active interest which ex-Congressman Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland and the Nassau Trolley Railway system is taking in the local contest. Mr. Johnson is a disciple of Mr. George, The active Bryanites say that Mr. Johnson is greatly exercised over the prospects of the regular Democracy casting out the Chicago platform, and that he has already urged Henry George to consider the possibility of a nomination for Mayor on that platform.

The Bryanites, however, do not pin all their hopes on Henry George. They still believe that Justice William J. Gaynor may be prevailed on to run, and also mention Col. E. M. Knor as a possibility. The Demogratic Alliance will meet to morrow night at its headquarters, 54 West Twentythird street, to discuss possible candidates and to try and come to an agreement with the United Democracy regarding the date for holding the Bryanite City Convention. The Democratic campaign of apologies has already begun in the endeavor to prove that Supreme Court Justice Alton B. Parker, candidate for Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, Supreme Court Justice Alton B. Parker, candidate for Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, voted for Bryan last year. The candidate has nothing to say on the subject himself, but Jimmy Oliver is prepared to say all that is requi ed.

The Jimmy Oliver candidate's alliance, which meets in Hudson street on Sundays and calls itself the Progressive Democratic League, adopted a resolution yesterday indorsing the nomination of Justice Parker. Even in this Tammany annex nine votes were cast against the resolution. Jimmy Oliver made a speech in which he asserted that Mr. Parker not only voted for Bryan, but "contributed $25,000 to the Democratic campaign fund." The best that has been said for Mr. Parker before this defence by Oliver was that, after election, he contributed $250 to ward a deficiency in the campaign fund of the Ulster County Democratic Committee.

Some of the Bryan men are still hopeful that the leaders of the Bryan will not be able to stiffe the Chicago platform sentiment of the rank and file of the Darty, and that delegates will be sent to the city Convention who will boldly advocate the reaffirmance of that platform and the nomination of Bryan candidates.

At the headquariers of the Young Democracy in West Forty-second sirect ex-Senator Francis M. Blxby said that the Bryan men have assurances from State Committeemen Patrick Hayes and M. J. Coffey and Senator McNulty, all of Brooklyn, the they will make the fight for free sliver in the convention. They are not so hopeful, though, of the election of Bryan delegates from this county. They said that the Tammany muzzle is the most effective machine of the kind in existence, and they expect to see it applied in such a way that no delegate from Manhattan or the Bronx will be able to utter a word in opposition to the plan of the bosses.

MRS. JUCK'S BURGLAR STORY. Mysterious Bobber Eifles the Trousers Mr. Juck and His Brother-in-Law.

The police of the Adams street station in Brooklyn are investigating an alleged burglary which has some peculiar features. Charles Juck, his wife Lizzie, two sons, a daughter, and his brother-in-law, Henry Northrup, live in the third flat at 311 Hicks street. Mrs. Juck, who is about 45 years old, notified the police that she was awakened about 5 o'clock yesterday morning by a sound in the hallway. She got out of bed and proceeded to the hall, where, she says, she was met by a strange man, who grabbed her around the waist, and then wound a pair of her husband's undergarments around her throat. He then knocked her down and made his escape. After he got away she screamed for help, but no one in the house heard her calls. Charles Callum, who lives on the floor above.

Charles Callum, who lives on the floor above, was up all night with a sick child, and he said his attention was first called to Mrs. Juck by hearing groans in the hallway. When he went downstairs he found Mrs. Juck standing in front of her door with the undergarments on her arm. By this time Mr. Juck and the other members of the family were awakened. A search of the house was made and Mr. Juck found that $15 had been taken from his trousers, which had been hanging in his room. Mr. Northrup had also lost $3. Mrs. Juck said that she could not see her assailant or describe him. Capt. O Reilly made an investigation, but could find no corroboration of Mrs. Juck's story.

SHOT HIS WIFE'S ESCORT. A Cleveland Man Attempts a Murder in Front of a Theatre. CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 19.-Frederick C. Kauffman, manager of the Consolidated Paper Company, who shot N. G. Richman, President of the N. G. Richman Company, manufacturers of clothing, last evening, was released on bail today. Richman was resting easier to-day and the physicians now believe that he will recover. He refuses to say anything concerning his relations with Mrs. Kauffman, with whom he was tions with Mrs. Kauffman, with whom he was waiking at the time the husband shot him. Kauffman, after being released, refused to see his wife and says that he will immediately begin proceedings for divorce. W. B. Kauffman of New York, brother of the husband, arrived here to day and went to the Kauffman home, whence he removed his brother's personal belongings.

Mrs. Kauffman says that she met Richman purely concerning a business matter relating to ber husband's financial affairs, which are said to be rather involved. On the other hand, Kauffman declares that he was not acquainted with Richman. A circumstance that will be held against Mrs. Kauffman is the fact that the moment she saw her husband advancing toward herself and companion she turned, and with an axclamation, ran. As the two men met, Kauffman shouted:

"I've got you now!"

"I've got you now!"
"Yes, you have caught me," responded Richman.

The shooting occurred in front of the entrance of the Lyceum Theatre, when crowds of persons were passing all the time.

that the Kid was slowly dying at a Yaqui set-tlement among the mountains in Sonora. He was skeptical until his work took him over that way several weeks inter.

There he saw Apache Kid, pale, thin, and weak. He had two or three brief chats with him, but never betrayed the fact that he had any idea who Kid was. Early in August, Aguliar says, he was told that Apache Kid died shortly before. He says, also, that all the Yaquis down there now say that Kid is dead, and no one doubts the reports of the death of the ruth-less murderer of many whites.

Favor Lauterbach for Mayor.

The Republican club of the Twenty-ninth Assembly district held a meeting at 808 Lexington avenue last Friday night, at which it was pro posed to adopt a resolution urging the nomina tion of Edward Lauterbach for Mayor. The tion of Edward Lauterbach for Mayor. The resolution was not adopted. The Twenty-ninth is Mr. Lauterbach's home district, and it is said that he got wind of the purpose of the club, and had the resolution suppressed. It was said yesterday, however, that his friends in the club will get together next Wednesday night and adopt the resolution.

Sagasta with a Liberal Cabinet Will Likely Replace the Conservatives.

Special Cable Desputch to Tan Sun. Madrid, Sept. 19 .- The Queen Regent will return to the capital from San Sebastian on Sept. 27, two weeks earlier than was arranged. This change of programme is due to the political dilemma that has arisen since the assassination of Senor Canovas del Castillo.

The best information continues to confirm the statement cabled to THE SUN on Sept. 7, to the effect that when her Majesty returns to Madrid she will be found to be in sympathy with the programme of Senor Sagasta, the Liberal leader, and that a Liberal Cabinet will replace the present Conservative Cabinet. The Conservative leaders have signally failed SIMLA, Sept. 19 .- Gen. The British forces captured 400 mule loads of supplies, after which they retired. Although the attack was successful, the British do not appear to have dealt a telling blow upon the Mohmands. The Queen has sent a telegram to the Earl of Eigin, the Viceroy of India, expressing her griefi at the losses sustained by the Jeffreys expedition in their recent attack upon the Mohmands, when at least thirty-eight men were killed and 100, including Gen. Jeffreys, were wounded. Her

GEN. ACOSTA CAPTURES A TOWN THREE MILES FROM HAVANA.

Weyler Placed Bis Besignation at the Dispossil of the Spanish Government-Whereupon Arcarraga Informed Him That He Was Desired to Hemain at the Heim in Cuba.

HAVANA, Sept. 18, via Key West, Sept. 19 .-Gen. Baldomero Acosta has carried out one of the most dashing enterprises ever attempted by the Cubans around Havana. On last Friday, with 600 men, he attacked the town of Managua, which is scarcely three miles from the capital, raided the place, and captured all the arms and ammunition in the Spanish forts, after having routed the Spanish garrison. A detachment of Spanish regulars, which came from the ward of Jesus del Monte to the rescue of the town, was dispersed by the Cubans. Though this news is not allowed to be published here it is now well known by the public. The many Spanish soldiers who were wounded in the affray were brought on Saturday to the capital, and many persons saw the ambulance carts coming in Managua is on the main road to Havana, the whole way being controlled by Gen. Acosta at present. The vegetables, eggs, and fowls on the way to market in the city are now seized by the insurgents at Managua. Famine is spreading rapidly in the city. Last week twelve persons died of hunger and many are at present starving to death. In the wards inhabited by the poor the situation of the people is something appalling. Women and children cry for bread in the streets, half naked and shivering from the calentura de hambre, or "bun-I learn from a reliable source that on Friday Gen. Weyler sent the following cable despatch to Gen. Azenrraga.

"The reports received here of the charges made against me in Spain compel me to tender my resignation to Your Excellency, which will doubtless be accepted in case the Government deems my recall necessary. But 1 protest against the assertion that I have failed or that I desire to relinquish the command of the island on account of my alleged lack of confidence in my ability to quell the revolution. In case the Government does not desire my recall I think it would produce good results if it should ratify its confidence in me." The despatch was immediately answered by Azcarraga as follows: "The Government has been informed of your message and desires that you remain in office." While Azcarraga is in power it is very likely, therefore, that Weyler will continue to hold the office of Captain-General.

One of the passengers who arrived here yes terday on the steamer Niagara, from Nassau, N. P., was Dr. Eugenio Sanchez Agramonte, Surgeon-General of the Sanitary Corps of the Cuban Army. Dr. Agramonte made the trip from the northern coast of Cuba to Nassau in an open boat. On Sept. 4, as he was about to leave, a messenger from Gen. Callato Garcia reached him and delivered to him the official report of the attack and capture of Victoria de las Tunas.

"What the report says," said Dr. Agramonte last night, "I do not know; it is scaled and will not be opened until to-morrow, when Delegate Estrada Palma comes from Central Val-ley. But from what Gen. Garcia's messenger told me I know that the patriot forces laid siege to Las Tunas en Aug. 27. On Aug. 29 a flag of truce was hoisted on 27. On Aug. 29 a flag of truce was hoisted on one of the forts and Gen, Garcia ordered his chief of staff, Brig. Gen. Mario Menocal, to approach the fort and see what the Spanish wished.

"As he was doing so at the head of fifty men, the Spanishie fired upon Menocal's command and thirty of his men were killed, Menocal himself being wounded in both legs.

"In view of this unspeakable conduct the assault was furlously renewed, and on the next assault was furiously renewed, and on the next day Gen. Garcia sent an ultimatum to the Spanish commander, who, seeing that he was powerless against the effective execution of our artillery, decided to go free. Many of them joined our ranks.

The capture of Las Tunas is of the greatest importance to our cause, not only on account of the moral effect it will produce abroad at a moment when the Spanish Government proclaims that our revolution is languishing, but also on account of the valuable booty which we captured there, and which included more than 1,00 new Mauser rifles, two cannon, 1,500,000 cartridges, and large quantity of medicine, provisions, and clothing. The Spanish loss was estimated at 150 killed and wounded. We lost about half as many.

"Gen. Menocal's wound is greatly to be regretted. He is one of the most brilliant among the younger patriot leadors."

Speaking of the Presidential election, Dr. Agramonte aid that nothing definite concerning it was known up to the time of his departure from Cuba. Dr. Agramonte was one of the first to loin the revolutionary movement.

He accompanied Gen. Maximo Gomez at the time of the invasion of the western provinces, and had a narrow escape at the hands of the Spaniards when the patriot forces entered the city of Bejucal, Havana province, in Jahuary, 1896.

His Brothers Had Identified as His. STRACUSE, Sept. 19.-When Patrick Bresnahan picked up the morning papers yesterday he was surprised to find full accounts of his tragic death by a railroad accident last evening. He also learned that his remains were lying in a downtown morgue, having been fully identified by two of his own brothers. Mr. Bresnahan surried down to the morgue to take a look at hirself, and found there a shockingly mangled body, from which the life had been crushed by the wheels of a freight train under which it had fallen. The Coroner has summoned a jury to officially determine why and how Mr. Bresnahn came to his death, but the appearance of that individual required a change in the proceedings, and now he is trying to find out who the dead man is.
